Van Goubergen P&M will store your address data in order to inform you about our future activities and programs; in accordance with the law of 8/12/1992 for protecting your privacy with regard to your personal data, you have the right to see, correct or remove the information that is kept by Van Goubergen P&M. We keep, at all times, the right to refuse registrations of candidates who, themselves or through their company, offer the same or similar services as Van Goubergen P&M gcv. All invoices are payable within 30 days of the invoicing date. When a 60 or 90 days payment term is chosen, we will increase the invoiced amount with respective 2% or 4%. We operate under Belgian Law, which governs our terms and conditions. Federal Law of Aug 8th 2002 regulates payment terms and conditions between companies. Late payment of an invoice will, by law and without additional upfront notification, result in charges for administration, extrajudicial recollection and contractual damage (10% of the overdue balance), as well as late payment interests (based on a reference interest rate of the European Central Bank). This does not exclude the possibility of additional relevant recollection charges.
